Kristyna Dostalova is a talented and passionate artist based in Melbourne. Kristyna brings her feelings to life through oil or acrylic on canvas, her preferred medium for its textures and viscosity. Her style is often described as abstract, but she also enjoys painting anything that inspires her.

She is self-taught and honed her craft as a child growing up in the Czech Republic. The vibrant landscapes and flora of Australia inspired Kristyna to fully embrace her passion for art, which is reflected in her current work inspired by living in Sydney.

Burning Palms is one of the most gorgeous trails in the Royal National Park. Breathtaking path takes you through rainforest, bushes and all the way down to stunning beach, where you don't find a soul.

This place inspired me to create this piece to highlight all different shades of greens and other colourful flora I found in the landscape.
